OUR CITY GOVERNMENT.

The Duties of the Mayor, Common Council And Other Officials.

On Monday, May 6th, one week from the day of their election, the officers of the city of Danbury enter upon their respective duties. The mayor, clerk, treasurer, sheriff and auditor, unlike the officials of the borough, hold office for two years. The annual meeting of the city will be adjourned until the following day for the transaction of other business.

The common council will fill the position of the present borough board, but in an entirely different manner. Perhaps the best way to define this body is to say that it is a legislature on a small scale.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

The board of aldermen, composed of all the aldermen of the city, and the board of councilmen, composed of all the councilmen form the common council, and each meets separately. The mayor presides at the meetings of each, but has a vote only in case of a tie. The city clerk acts as clerk of each. Each board must elect at the first meeting of each new council a president of the council from among their number, to preside over their meetings in the absence of the mayor during the year. The board of common councilmen may be specially convened at any time by the mayor, and regular meetings of each body must be held at such time as may be fixed by the ordinances of the city, except that the regular meetings of each of said bodies must not be held within twenty-four hours of each other. In each body a majority of all the members thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any member of either body who shall while holding office, directly or indirectly, take or bargain for any fee on pecuniary consideration to influence his official vote or action upon any resolution whatever, or ordinance pending in said common council, or either body thereof, shall pay to the city a fine equal in amount to the fee on pecuniary consideration so directly taken or bargained for, be expelled from the office and forever be disqualified from holding any office in the city.

Every vote, resolution, order or ordinance which passes either body must be transmitted to the other, and if passed there also shall be sent to the mayor, who shall either approve it within six days, in which case it shall become operative, or return it to the body in which it originated with his objections thereto, which shall be entered at large upon the records of such body, which shall proceed to reconsider the same. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of the members present shall agree to pass the same, it shall be sent with the objections to the other body, by which it shall be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present shall become operative. If the mayor fails to return any vote, resolution, order or ordinance with his objections within six days after it is presented to him, it shall become operative.

The common council must provide for the prevention of disease of any kind and for the promotion and preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the city.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS.

The common council must present at the annual meeting, to be held in April in each year, a detailed estimate of the expenses of the city, for the year next following, in each of the departments, with such explanations and suggestions as they may deem proper to submit. If the meeting approves of the estimates, they will authorize the requisite appropriation to be made by the common council.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS.

The mayor will receive $800 per annum.

The city clerk, $500.

The treasurer, $200.

The superintendent of water works, $900.

The superintendent of public work, $1,000.

The chief engineer of the fire department, $300.

The assistant engineer of the fire department, $100.

The assessors, the same compensation as is now paid to the assessors of the town of Danbury.

The auditors, compensation at the rate of $5 per day while actually engaged in the duties of their office.

The sheriff of said city, for attendance at the city court, the sum of $1.50 per day, and for all other services rendered said city, the legal fees provided by the statutes of the state for sheriffs.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUSES.

The Nominations Made in the Wards Last Night.

FIRST WARD.

The Democratic members of the First ward met at the City Hall last evening to make nominations for a ward ticket. Edward Taylor was chosen chairman and R. B. Pearce, secretary. Charles S. Every vote, resolution, order or ordinance which passes either body must be transmitted to the other, and if passed there also shall be sent to the mayor, who shall either approve it within six days, in which case it shall become operative and effectual, or disapprove it, in which case it becomes inoperative and ineffectual, in which latter case he shall return it to the body in which it originated, at or before its next regular meeting (within six days) with a statement of his objections in writing, and after such statement has been read in each body another vote shall be taken in each upon such measure, and if the result in each is in its favor by a majority vote of all the members, present or absent, it shall thereupon become operative and effectual, without the approval of the mayor. If the mayor shall refuse or neglect to signify his approval or disapproval of any such measure so transmitted to him within six days after its reception, said measure shall become operative and effectual as though approved by him.

The common council when assembled accordingly to law, shall have power; in the manner provided in this charter, by a concurrent vote of a majority of the members of each board present and absent, to make, alter, repeal and enforce ordinances not inconsistent with this charter, or the statute laws of this state, or of the United States for the following purposes, viz: To manage, regulate, and control the finances and property, to provide the mode of keeping the accounts of the city of adjusting claims against the city, to regulate and fix the salaries and compensation of all officers and employees of the city, and prescribe the duties of the officers, provide for the police of the city, to preserve order and peace; to prevent and quiet riots and disorderly assemblages; to prevent vice and immorality; to suppress gambling houses, houses of ill-fame and the thousand and one things of the kind necessary in a city.

Within sixty days after any ordinance has been passed the mayor may call, and if requested in writing by five members of the common council, and twenty other voters of the city, shall call a special meeting of the voters of the city to approve or disapprove said ordinance. If a majority of the voters of the city be present and voting at said meeting, shall vote to disapprove it, it shall from that time be repealed and void, otherwise it shall continue in force.

THE POWERS OF THE MAYOR.

The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive magistrate. He has power to administer oaths, to take depositions, and the acknowledgment of deeds and other instruments in all cases.

He is authorized to exercise within the limits of the city all the powers given to sheriffs by the general statutes of this state for the preservation of the peace, and may at all times command the aid of any sheriff, county or city, deputy sheriff, constable, watchman or policeman, or any or all of them together, with such other aid as may be
