NEARLY 10,000 BONUS SEEKERS AT WASHINGTON

Police Keep in Constant Touch with the Federal Authorities.

HELD AT POST
Army Officers at Bolling Field Requested Not to Leave.

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Police kept constant touch to-day with federal authorities as the numbers of the veterans here seeking the bonus payment continued to grow.

There were reports, apparently well founded but unconfirmed by officials, that army posts in the vicinity of Washington had taken precautionary protective moves in view of the mounting numbers of veterans in the city. Police estimated that nearly 10,000 would be in the capital by the end of the week.

Officers attached to Bolling field,
the army airport adjacent to one of the veterans' encampments, were asked not to leave their reservation after noon to-day. Their wives were advised not to leave the post unescorted.

The inhospitable reception they received at the hands of police and capitol building officials when they applied for permission to parade on the capitol grounds, caused the leaders of the communist organization,
the Workers Ex-Servicemen's league,
to cancel their demonstration for today. Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner directed that they be given no permit to parade on capitol grounds. Metropolitan police had granted permission for the radicals to parade in the city, but changed their minds after the Curtis-Garner action.

The communists' organization,
claiming a membership of 2,000
among the veterans now in the city, were estimated by police to have an actual membership of some 250 out of nearly 8,000 veterans in the encampments. Several of the agitators were arrested and taken to station houses yesterday by the veterans themselves. Police advised them to leave the city and some were known to have left.

The league now plans to go to the capitol Friday and attempt to present petitions to the vice president and speaker. Since they have no parade permit, their numbers necessarily will be very limited.

Meanwhile, Representative Rainey, the democratic leader, told newspapermen he would keep the house in session for a vote Monday
on whether to take up legislation
for immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Rainey, who filed the adverse ways and means committee report
on the cash bonus proposal, said:

"One hundred forty-five members signed the petition to discharge the rules committee from consideration of the cash bonus proposition, and they are entitled to a vote in the house.

"A lot of those who signed the petition have been coming to me
asking if we are not going to adjourn before June 13, but I told them 'no you signed the petition and you can go to the mat on it.'

"When members take such steps they should go through with their proposition. In fact, I think the house and senate both ought to vote on the question and settle it."

A sudden change in temperature from a hot day to a chilly, foggy night in the Anacostia flats brought a new problem for home and store owners near the Anacostia encampment of veterans.

All lumber of any size in the encampment had been used to build shelters and only feeble bonfires could be built for the veterans to huddle about.

Large numbers sought admission to the 11th precinct police station, but were denied it because of the size of the groups.

They wandered about Anacostia
and spent the night in all night delicatessens or any spot which promised warmth.

V. F. W. ARE OPPOSED.

Communist Are Blamed for Bonus Demonstrations.

To the Editor of the News:

While the Veterans of Foreign Wars are in favor of the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates they are not in favor of demonstrating the fact by bonus parades and all V. F. W. posts have been asked by the national commander-in-chief, Harold Decoe, to do everything within their power to discourage participation in any bonus march to Washington, because communist agitators have taken advantage of the situation, as they did when they sponsored the hunger march to Washington last December.

The Workers' Ex-Service Men's League, an organization sponsored by communist headquarters in New York, is active in organizing the present movement. Communist papers like the Daily Worker, published in New York, are carrying news in every issue telling how ex-service men are being organized to move on to Washington.

It is for this reason, as well as for many others, that the Veterans of Foreign Wars should refrain from assisting these communists. The object of the communist is not the cash payment of the bonus but the overthrow of the government of the United States of America.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is composed entirely of men who have fought and sacrificed for our country. Americanism and loyalty to the government of the United States are foundation principles of our order. This organization must not play into the hands of the communist agitators who care nothing for the veterans except to exploit them and use them for their own ends.

No member of the V. F. W., is a communist and no member wants the stigma of communism to be placed upon our organization. The V. F. W. is doing everything possible to get the bonus bill through congress and will continue to fight to the finish. On the other hand the V. F. W. will combat communism with the same spirit with which they took up the fight for their country and flag in 1917.

City and Vicinity

Mrs. John C. Downs was re-appointed by Governor Wilbur L. Cross yesterday to be a director of Long Lane farm for three years, beginning July 1.

Friends of Mrs. Isabel Morey, of Mill Plain district, will be pleased to learn that she is doing nicely at the Danbury hospital, where she underwent a major operation on May 28.

There will be a full rehearsal at the Baptist church to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for all those taking part in the Children's Day exercises to be held at the church next Sunday.

An old-fashioned prayer meeting will be held at the Advent Christian church this evening at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced to-day. The speaker will be Walter Moorman, who has been doing evangelistic work.

The grand jury of Fairfield county, empaneled yesterday in Bridgeport, before Judge Frank P. McEvoy to pass on two murder cases, includes Martin H. Donohue, of Newtown, as one of the members.

The Veterans' council and allied organizations will meet at the Legion Home to-night at 8 o'clock to clean up all matters pertaining to the annual Memorial Day parade and exercises, which were in charge of the council.

Among those who have made reservations for the bridge party of the Norwalk chapter, D. A. R., which is being held in the Old Town Hall, Mill Hill, in that city, this afternoon was that of Mrs. A. Anderson, of Danbury, says the Norwalk Hour.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Hope Bennett and William Jenkins Foote, both of New Haven, took place at the summer home of the bride's parents at Branford last Saturday afternoon. Julian H. Whittlesey, of West Redding, acted as one of the ushers.

A reunion of students of Chappaqua Mountain Institute, of whom there are several in this city and vicinity, will be held at the old meeting house in Chappaqua, N. Y., Sunday, June 19. A religious meeting will be held at 11 a. m. and a business meeting at 2 p. m.

WILL REMAIN IN WASHINGTON

Danbury Group of Bonus Seekers Decides Not to Return Home at Once.

Danbury's group of six bonus marchers will remain at Washington instead of returning to this city. It was stated yesterday by Frank M. Nassar, spokesman for the group. Mr. Nassar and his eight companions from Connecticut, two from South Norwalk, called on Congressman E. W. Goss yesterday in an effort to persuade him to vote for the bonus bill. Congressman Goss declined to accede to the wishes of the group, however, explaining that the depleted condition of the national treasury made it impossible for him to vote in favor of the measure.

The Danbury contingent is camping at the Anacostia encampment established by the bonus marchers. Here they are reported to be sleeping in rude shelters and cooking over campfires whatever rations they are able to get from friends of their cause in Washington. The principal item on the bill-of-fare, wire reports say, is "mulligan stew." This consists of pieces of vegetables, bits of meat and anything else having nutriment and flavor thrown into a pot and boiled.

After having dinner with congressman William L. Tierney Wednesday night, the World war veterans from this city decided to return home. Exhorted by a Pittsburgh priest to remain in Washington and carry on their fight to the end, the Danbury group and bonus marchers from other parts of the country decided yesterday to remain in Washington, although offered free transportation to their homes in motor trucks.

ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

East Danbury W. C. T. U. Meets at Home of Mrs. Stuart

Flower mission day also was observed at the meeting yesterday by the sending of flowers to the sick and shut-in. Many flowers were taken to the meeting by members and afterwards were distributed.

An interesting meeting was held, special features being a report by Mrs. Arthur Stuart on the recent

Among those who will attend will be delegations from Danbury post, American Legion, and Walling post, V. F. W., which will have with them the Legion fife, drum and bugle corps and the V. F. W. band. The Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts also have been invited to attend.

The convention will be the first where the state association will have to pass upon the manner of making a disbursement for some worthy cause from Connecticut's portion of the Elks' national foundation fund of twenty million dollars.

An automobile driven by John Rice ran into a gravel truck while trying to pass another car on the hill near the Newtown railroad station, on the Newtown-Sandy Hook road. The members of the party were returning to Manchester from Annapolis, Md., where they had witnessed the graduation of George Washington, June 10 (AP)—Police moved to-day to segregate all communists from the bonus marchers' army whose treasury was swelled by a contribution of $5,000.

Separation of the communists from the more conservative elements in the regular encampments was designed to protect the radicals from possible bodily harm. Last night between 150 and 200 outspoken radicals were driven from the Anacostia flats' camp and were saved from bodily harm only by timely arrival of police.

An offer to contribute $5,000 to the veterans' food fund on the condition that all inflammatory propaganda be kept out of the camps, was accepted to-day by the police. The sum was offered by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit leader of the Radio League of the Little Flower.

Pelham H. Glassford, superintendent of police, who will administer the fund, said that the communists who could produce discharge certificates would be treated equally with other veterans. He said that for "purposes of law and order," they would be kept out of reach of the anti-communist majority.

Anticipating an order from Dr. William C. Fowler, District of Columbia health officer, closing the Anacostia flats' camp to prevent an outbreak of disease Glassford sought new billets for the troops. Those under police care at Anacostia to-day totaled 6,560.

The office of Captain William G. Stott, ranking metropolitan police officer overseeing the veterans, estimated 10,000 would be in Washington by to-morrow morning.

"Bonus Army" Camp from the Air

This striking aerial view of the Bonus Army's encampment at Washington recalls the days when the boys were fighting for another cause—when there was no lack of food, shelter and plenty of ammunition.

There are veterans here from all corners of the United States, camping in rude shelters and wondering where the next meal is coming from. But they're determined to stay until they receive payment.

a railroad train than you are in your own living-room," seems to be more than proved by these figures.

The March On Washington

Among the most sensible of editorial comments on the "bonus march" we believe the following, taken from the Pittsburgh Press, is outstanding:

"The State, city, county and railroad official who encourages the so-called bonus march on Washington is acting contrary to the interests not only of his community but in an even larger degree to the interests of the soldiers themselves.

The unemployed ex-soldier who believes that arrival in the nation's capital will improve his condition is only deluding himself. Washington's relief funds are already exhausted. The concentration there of more thousands of unemployed, whether they be ex-soldiers or not, simply means that Washington will become the worst of all places for the man who is out of a job.

"Officials who are 'passing on' their unemployed to Washington—without giving them the facts of what they will find there—are shirking their responsibility.

"It is the duty of every officer, both public and of the veterans' organizations, to do everything in his power through the use of reason and argument to stop this movement, the result of which can only be to multiply human misery. The opportunity for local veterans' leaders to perform a public service and a service to ex-soldiers is especially great."

The Pittsburgh Press is right: "The unemployed ex-soldier who believes that arrival in the nation's capital will improve his condition is only deluding himself."

EIGHTH EDITION

SIX VETERANS ARE MISSING

Men at Soldiers' Home in Noroton Believed to Have Joined Bonus March.

Six veterans reported missing from the Fitch Home for Soldiers at Noroton, who are believed to have joined the bonus march to Washington face ouster proceedings, Col. William H. Welch, commandant of the home said last night.

Col. Welch said he was awaiting a report of the platoon sergeant tomorrow for a definite report on their absence before discharging the men from the home. First offenders will suffer a six months' suspension from the institution, and a second offender, a permanent loss of privileges.

"It is a known rule at the home," he said, "that if the men go on long trips such as one to Washington, they are considered absent without leave, as in the army, and are automatically discharged from the home."

"We think the men have gone to Washington, but have no definite proof that they have joined the bonus advocates there," Col. Welch said.

It was learned yesterday that for the past several days, veterans—the majority of them from the late war—had been discussing the progress of the bonus army, as its ranks increased at Capitol Hill. Officials received reports of some veterans joining the army but were inclined to doubt the action until the men disappeared yesterday.

Col. Welch declared that the first offenders of the absence without leave, must make formal applications to the home before they will be considered for re-admittance.
