The one-and-one-half story Cape form with its steeply pitched roof pierced by three gabled dormers is repeated in the breezeway section, on a smaller scale. The off-center entry is sheltered by a portion with closed pediment. Windows throughout are six over six. 18. ARCHIVECT 19. HEYORICAL OR ARCHIVECTURAL IMPORTANCE The house, the third to be built on this site, was constructed in 1929 for T. Maitland Cleland, a renowned illustrator, typographer and designer of books and bookbinding designs, who moved here from New York and occupied the house until his death in 1964. The house's horizontal orientation, Colonial Revival style and rambling appearance cause it to blend easily into the streetscape of Long Ridge Road.
