Teacher Mary F. Edgett

To the Parents:

This report is one of the means the school uses to give you information about your child's progress in school. We feel that you should have such information regularly in order to work with us for your child's best growth and development. This is our joint concern and responsibility.

We believe that the fundamental school subjects are of great importance. We believe, also, that social, emotional, and physical development, and growth in citizenship, are equally important. Therefore, this report covers more than your child's progress in the school subjects. It covers his development in good citizenship, health, work and play habits and in his ability to live with others.

Please talk this report over with your child each time that it is received. Your signature indicates that you have examined it. If you wish to discuss this report with the teachers or the principal kindly call the school for an appointment. Your interest in the school progress of your child will help him and his teachers.
