THE CARMEL RACES.

Danbury Horses Did Well at the Fair Yesterday.

Danbury was well represented at the Carmel Fair yesterday. Many went by train, others drove and still others were in automobiles. The racing was the principal attraction and the Danbury horses entered did well. P. H. Young, Rex, won the 2:40 class trot in three straight heats. Frank H. Lee's Andantino was second in the three heats of the 2:22 trot. As a result several hundred dollars of the bookmakers' money was brought home by the Danbury contingent. The summary of yesterday's races follows:
