I WISH
YOU COULD'VE BEEN THERE
Betty Ortelt
... and wine was not as sweet as sound to the ear
Gary Booth

Laura Anderson
and the air was music
and the air was pure wonderful

Sandy Culbert
WONDERFUL WONDERFUL WONDERFUL
Andy DeGrazia

Marjorie McDonald
Bill Melfi

Barry Spencer
Bill Murphy
with still shining eyes
yet more profound
to unlock future's door
Bob Lefebvre
there is youth in the magic of courage and known by he that dreams

the dream
Bob Gallagher
of books the power of truth
the poetry of beauty
always find us young
in mirrors rightly seeing but known only to ourselves rightly seen

Anna Bocchino
Ellen Tristine
pause and pass
smiling as I pass

shadowed fields of life
Dr. Elizabeth Dominy
to those who go goodbye it's over Chuck Murphy

Ginny Reese
it's over
Marie Fossati
Judy Ferguson

it's over

Bill Zakhar
Paul O'Donnell

all over.
to those who come  hello  remember wherever there is knowledge . . .
sweet feeling of freedom
long I followed
happy guides together
and climbed the misty hill
to see the stars
and know other worlds
Janice Kelleher

Phil Pane
Steve and Regina Link
and the future?
YES YES YES

The Beginning
on the long
    walk down
long roads
    past trees
bare and black
    that touch
before me
    the depths
of thoughts
to think beyond

The Beginning
Photography and Layout — Garry Burdick

Words and Period — Carl Berry

Co-Editors
Ellen Tristine and Jeanne Hancock